HARNEY WOOL CONTRACTED.

Frank Johnson Gets 1,000,000 Pounds at 15 Cents Per Pound.

Baker City, Dec. 5.—Frank Johnson the well known Boston wool buyer, who has just returned from a trip to the Harney country, claims to have contracted 1,000,000 pounds of Harney county wool, of the 1905 clip, at 15 cents per pound.

Mr. Johnson has been in the Steen's Mountain district for the past three weeks, buying 1905 wool, and says that 15 cents is the highest price paid. He predicts that prices will go higher than this next season, but fears that congress will tinker with the wool tariff rates and demoralize the market.

LAST SESSION 58TH CONGRESS

Lobbies and Galleries Crowded When Order Was Called at High Noon.

FLORAL PIECES COVER MANY MEMBERS' DESKS.

Fairbanks and Cockrell Are Centers of Attraction—Burton, of Kansas, Is Not Present—Speaker's Lobby Besieged With Schemers, All Anxious to Get an Early Consideration of Their Plans—The Clerk's Desk Is Piled High With Bills to Be Introduced.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Congress convened promptly at noon today, in the last session of the 58th congress. Senator Pro Tem Frye called the senate to order and Speaker Cannon performed a similar duty for the house.

Lobbies and galleries were crowded and the private galleries filled with fashionable women and men, friends of the president, and the diplomatic corps and members of congress. Floral pieces covered the desks of the members and overflowed into the lobbies.

Centers of Interest.

Senator Fairbanks, vice president-elect, is easily the most conspicuous figure. The galleries craned necks to see him.

Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, also came in for much attention.

The desks of the late senators Hear and Quay were draped in black. Senator Burton, of Kansas, was not present.

In the house, where the 386 members occupy the available floor space, there was perhaps less dignity and more noise and laughter than among the 90 veterans of the senate.

Speaker Cannon's room was besieged by a long procession of members seeking to get their bills in the fire early.

The clerk's desk was covered with bills for early introduction.

SOUVENIR GOLD DOLLARS.

Lewis and Clark Coins Selling Rapidly—Suitable for Mounting as Jewelry.

Portland, Dec. 5.—Lewis and Clark souvenir gold dollars, which sell for $2 each, are proving popular, as was expected, and the first issue of 25,000 coins will soon be exhausted, if the demand for the souvenirs continues.

When the appropriation was made for the fair by congress, a clause in the bill provided for the coinage of the gold dollar, the issue being limited to 250,000. The coins are of the size of the gold dollar which was formerly current, being somewhat smaller than a dime. They are different from any other coin ever circulated in that they have two heads or obverses.

This was made necessary by the fact that it was desired to give credit on the coin to both Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, the explorers whose expedition a century ago, in the words of President Roosevelt, "marked the beginning of the process of exploration and colonization which thrust our national boundaries to the Pacific." On the side of the coin bearing the likeness of Captain Clark are the words "United States of America," and "One Dollar." On the other side are the portrait of Captain Lewis, the words "Lewis-Clark Expedition, Portland, Ore.," and the date "1904." The coin has neither wreath nor stars.

The sale of the Lewis and Clark souvenir coins is being pushed in various ways. In September the executive committee of the Portland Commercial Club appointed a committee of 50 young women to take charge of the sale. The committee met and it was decided that each member was to secure four others for the committee, giving the completed committee a membership of 250. The committee also adopted a resolution requesting every man in Oregon to wear one of the coins.

DOCTOR DROWNS AT JETTY WORKS

Loses His Way Near Drain and Undergoes Remarkable Experience.

HE HAD BEEN MISSING SINCE THURSDAY LAST.

With His Horse He Crossed the Sula-law River, Half a Mile Wide and Then Endeavored to Proceed on Foot—Exhausted by Fatigue and Cold, He Fell Into a Tank Connected With the Government Jetty Works and Drowned—Was a Hospital Superintendent.

Drain, Or., Dec. 5.—The body of Doctor R. H. Barber, superintendent and owner of Gardiner hospital, was found last night in the bottom of a 14-foot tank at the government jetty works.

He was a prominent surgeon, and answered an urgent call from Florence, 20 miles distant, Thursday night. He went on horseback over an unfamiliar country, missed his way and plunged into the Sula-law river. His horse swam the river, half a mile wide.

When the doctor evidently started on foot to reach a settlement in the darkness, he fell into the tank and, numbed from exposure, drowned.

The entire route taken by Dr. Barber and his horse has been traced by the footprints of either the horse or himself. It is a matter of great surprise that the doctor was not killed or disabled at the point where his horse fell with him over the bluff into the river. At that point the bluff is 25 feet high, and so nearly perpendicular that it was impossible to climb it, and at its foot the water is 30 feet deep.

Finding himself unhurt after the fall over the bluff, Dr. Barber is presumed to have chosen the alternative of swimming the river with the horse to freeing the horse and clinging to the undergrowth in the edge of the water along the precipitous side of the bluff.

48 PERSONS INJURED.

Passenger Train Goes Through a Bridge in Post Oak Valley.

Warrensburg, Mo., Dec. 5.—No. 1, westbound Missouri Pacific passenger train, was badly wrecked two miles east of Holden this afternoon. Forty-eight persons were injured, some so seriously that they will die. How many escaped death is amazing.

It was flagged at Centerville, the first station west of here, and there received an order to run slow over the Post Oak bridge between Centerville and Holden.

Directly in violation of this order, the train rushed down through Post Oak valley at the rate of 45 miles an hour.

The engine and first baggage car went over the bridge all right, but just as they reached the other side there was an awful crash and in a moment the remainder of the train, consisting of five coaches, including one Pullman car and a diner, were thrown into a confused heap. Some of the coaches went into the bed of the creek and down a declivity of 30 or 40 feet. The force of the concussion was terrible.

Heavy 50-pound rails were bent like hoops and thrown clear outside the right of way. Ties were crushed to powder and the bridge was broken into many fragments. Most of the coaches were turned upside down and some of them were badly broken up. The engine and one baggage car went over 300 yards before the engineer discovered the train had been wrecked.

The wreck occurred at the Holden waterworks pump house, about three miles west of Doran, where a freight wreck occurred about three months ago and about 14 miles west of Dead Man's Curve, near Warrensburg, where 20 persons were killed in October.

ENGINE LOST DRIVE WHEEL

NO. 2 NARROWLY ESCAPED GOING INTO COLUMBIA.

As the Wheel Left the Engine the Piston Rod Was Torn Out and Only a Lucky Fatality Kept the Rod From Going Under the Wheels—Accident Occurred on a Sharp Curve Not Far West of Umatilla—Train Continued Eastward With Another Engine.

A drive wheel torn from Engine No. 130, drawing the east-bound passenger train from Portland last night, delayed the arrival of the train in Pendleton for more than an hour. "The broken wheel" occurred as the engine was rounding a sharp curve along the Columbia river, west of Umatilla.

The huge wheel tore out the piston rod as it went spinning away from the engine, and railroad men declare that if the rod had dropped onto the rails the entire train would have been piled into the river.

Another engine was secured from Umatilla and the damaged one will be taken to the repair shops.

FOR VIOLATING SCAB LAW.

Eugene Sheepman Fined $25 for Keeping Diseased Sheep.

Eugene, Dec. 5.—John Maxwell, a well known farmer residing near Irving, was arrested this morning for having scabby sheep in his possession without notifying the county stock inspector. He appeared before Justice of the Peace Wintermeier and was fined $25 for the offense.

The arrest was made at the instance of A. G. Mathews, county stock inspector, who has commenced a crusade against violators of the stock law in this respect.

This is the second arrest within a week for violation of the sheep scab law and still more are looked for. Inspector Mathews says that he is determined to endeavor to enforce the law strictly in an effort to stamp out the scab which seems to be spreading rapidly.

NEGRO AND WHITE MAN CARRY OUT THE SCHEME.

Gained Access to the Express Car by a Ruse and Leave It Undetected Until the Next Station Is Reached—Train Traveled Forty-five Miles While the Deed Was Being Enacted—Failed to Get Into the Safe, But Secured $8000 and Make Their Get-away.

San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 5.—The Santa Fe overland, No. 1, was held up last night between Dagget and Ludlow, and the express messenger shot and wounded. He is suffering too much to give an idea of the amount stolen.

The robber is supposed to be a negro, wearing a cap, who entered the rear door of the car by breaking a chain.

Murder and Robbery.

San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 5.—Messenger Roberts was shot between Ludlow and Dagget on the desert.

When the agent at Dagget pounded on the door for admittance of express matter, no sound came from within. The conductor then entered by the front door. When it was opened the messenger was found in a pool of blood.

The messenger gaspingly told them that two men had said they were passengers and wanted to get on the train. He unlocked the door and pushed it open, tearing the chain loose. The intruders struck the messenger twice on the head. He made an effort to fight and was shot through the breast.

The robbers looted the safe of drafts and money amounting to $8,000. The robbers left the train as it was entering Dagget.

The robbery was committed within a distance of 45 miles. There was a heavy gale and no sounds.

The messenger was taken through to Los Angeles, becoming unconscious and will die.

The robbers failed to get into the safe.

The messenger said there was one white man and one negro. A sheriff's posse has gone to the scene.

LEFT MEAD A FORTUNE.

Baker City Man Receives Estate of $250,000 in Tonopah.

Baker City, Dec. 5.—W. H. Mead, the well known Baker City business man, yesterday received the happy news in a letter from the county clerk of Nye county, Nevada, the county in which Tonopah is situated, that Tommie O'Brien, who died a few days ago, had left him heir to all his property, consisting of mines in the Goldfield camp valued at $250,000.

Mr. Mead will leave today or tomorrow for Tonopah to take possession of the property and expects to be gone about six weeks, when he will return to Baker City to attend to his business here. Behind this bare information is a romance.

Three years ago Mr. Mead was in Tonopah when that camp was unknown. Mead was taken seriously sick and O'Brien nursed him and cared for him until he became well. At that time O'Brien was only a poor prospector. When Mead left the camp he gave O'Brien his tent, blankets, outfit and grub. O'Brien, true to the miner's instinct, has remembered the man who grub-staked him.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 5.—The supreme prize court today upheld the appeal from the seizure of the Five Cousins with flour on board from Holland, and the Asiatic liner steamer Arabia captured by the Vladivostok squadron July 20, and quashed the original decision in the case.
